Our agency

ifour is a growing creative design agency, based in Tunbridge Wells, Kent. We work with a wide range of clients, from global brands to smaller, national companies. We're an innovative agency with a strong reputation for delivering beautiful and intelligent business communications solutions with inspiration and integrity. The business has grown organically since we started trading in 2006, with new work usually coming from recommendations. This has meant that as we have achieved a return to a kind of normality with the global pandemic, our portfolio of web development projects has continued to grow... fast.

Our development team

Our development team is responsible for bringing the outstanding concepts, websites and interactives designed and created by the Design and Strategy teams to life. To do this well, our developers have to be creative, analytical and empathetic themselves; they are able to understand colleagues' creative intentions and translate this into lean, elegant code that provides the aesthetic and functionality on which ifour's reputation is built.

Our offer

You will have a chance to innovate and expand the boundaries of your creativity. Your ideas will have impact and you will own your own work. The management structure is relatively flat and we have a high level of trust in our people to do what is best for our clients and the company.

This level of trust and mutual support is reflected in the flexibility of our working environment: we want you to fulfill your role to the best of your ability and it gets busy, but we know you have a life outside of work. Having a good work-life balance helps to feed your creativity and wellbeing and allows you to reach your full potential. We have a happy, informal and supportive working environment with a great range of benefits and opportunities to learn.

Our wish

We're looking for a smart, focused developer to join the team in producing work of the highest quality possible to help us maintain our reputation for creative brilliance. For this, we need you to be able to do the following:

- Work alongside the senior developers to develop, build and maintain a wide range of projects in a fast moving environment.
- Collaborate with team members across design and strategy teams to accurately create online experiences from artwork and concepts.
- Liaise comfortably with clients via telephone, physical and online meetings.
- Organise work across multiple projects at any one time.

and have the following:

- Minimum 2+ years of WordPress / PHP Experience.
- Experience in front-end technologies (HTML/CSS/JS).

Experience with:

- Gutenberg editor and custom block development.
- PHP templating languages such as Blade and Twig.
- Relational databases such as MySQL and MariaDB.
- GIT version control
- Consuming REST APIs
- Installation/managing reporting tools such as Google Analytics.

In an ideal world (which we know it isn't), we'd also love you to have:

- Experience with PHP frameworks such as Laravel would be a benefit.
- Knowledge of TailwindCSS and AlpineJS.
- Knowledge of build scripts and continuous integration systems.
- DevOps experience - AWS, Nginx/Apache/LiteSpeed, DNS, SSL etc.
- Experience with design and prototyping tools such as Sketch and Figma.
- Experience of ecommerce platforms such as WooCommerce.
